

On the Cover: Varanus salvator bivittatus

The hand-drawn anatomical illustrations appearing on the cover and inset of this issue originate from Grace B. Watkinson's 1906 work entitled "The cranial nerves of Varanus bivittatus." With 17 figures, this monograph represents one of the earliest investigations on the nervous system of varanid lizards, and features what may be the first published illustration of the varanid brain (Varanus salvator bivittatus). Figures courtesy of the American Museum of Natural History Library.
